Gentlemen:

This will acknowledge receipt today of your September 27, 2007 facsimile Request for Extention (sic) of Time to File Dispositive Motion in which you seek an extension from October 10 to October 19 to file Respondent's Motion for Summary Judgment.

Your request is denied. The due date for such motions is 28 days prior to the schedule hearing, except in circumstances not raised in your Request. The purpose of that deadline is to allow the Board sufficient time to dispose of the Motion prior to the scheduled hearing date, which in this matter is November 7, 2007. The 28-day limit was established as the minimum time in which the Board can give such motions proper and thorough consideration. See Section 102.24(b) of the Board's Rules and Regulations. Note in this regard that this Rule does not include "or within such further period as the Board may allow" after the deadline. The omission is a further indication that the Board will not entertain extension requests for the filing of summary judgment motions.

The foregoing, however, does not preclude you to filing your motion with the administrative law judge at the hearing or within 28 days of the hearing.

Very truly yours,

Richard D. Hardick
Associate Executive Secretary
