Can we make sure all the hospitals are returning all the empty wobs, we are running low on steel. We have sent more out than empties coming back in.

We shorted 100 wobs on the trucks this morning due to no cylinders to fill. Your assistance is greatly appreciated, please let me know what we can do.

 Team,

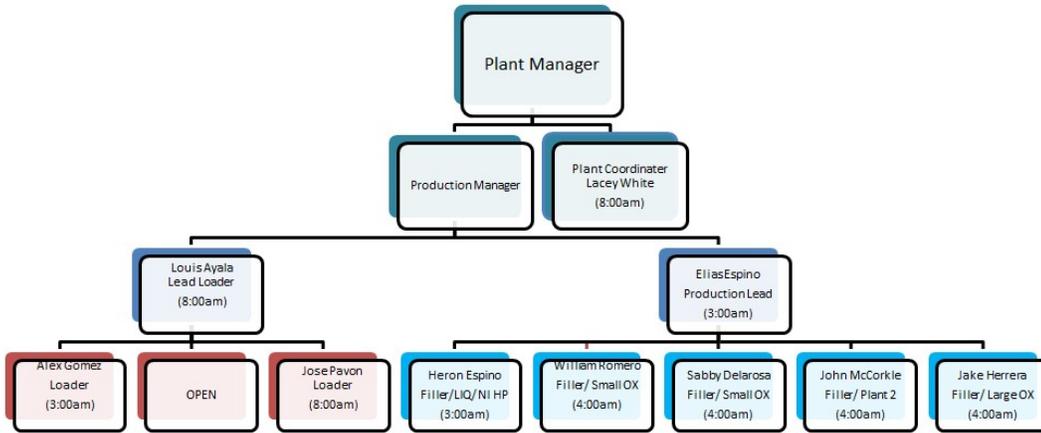

I'd like to discuss manpower leveling for August and come up with a game plan to ensure all areas are covered. Below is the current PTO schedule for the Plant, and as you see, we have some challenging weeks ahead. All PTO was approved well in advance, and the guys have made vacation arrangements. The main area of concern is the loading operation, we have Jose Pavon (2nd Shift Loader) out 08/02 through 08/09, leaving us with only two loaders next week. If feasible, I'd like to ask if 23rd could borrow a loader next week to alleviate our loading constraint. This is the only week I foresee FTW needing manpower assistance. Luckily, help is on the way with new hire Leon Ornelas hopefully on-boarding later this month. If you gentlemen have any other ideas, let's discuss and come up with the best plan to ensure our operation runs safely and efficiently.

Since we received the ISO late yesterday, we started Helium production early today. We accomplished 525 HE 200 today to meet demand for NTX. Yesterday's main focus was to get caught up on CO2 and also fulfill the C02 orders for the DFW airport that we go once a week. Today we were able to accomplish 1,056 Wobs (DS, MRI). Manpower has been the issue the last two weeks with 4 open positions, vacation and sick time. We will continue to shift production as needed, and also we scheduling production for Saturday. UPDATE on filling open positions- Filler starting in 3 weeks. 5 possible candidates are scheduled to interview this Friday.

GP is currently shut down on C02 production, can Ft Worth send GP CD FG20A and CD 50's on the shuttle tomorrow? Whatever Ft Worth can spare would help at this time. GP will send back empties on the shuttle to replace the full's you send. Please advise and thank you for your help!
